

Sister Mary Jean Mulch, SSND – 70 Year Jubilee!

“I loved my students and my teaching assignments!”

I was born in South Jersey to Cecilia and Matthew Mulch. As one of 11 children - and the third-youngest daughter - I enjoyed a normal childhood in my large, loving family.

I received my education from the School Sisters of Notre Dame in elementary school, secondary school and college.

I earned my bachelor's degree from Notre Dame of Maryland College (now University) and master's degree from Loyola University, in Maryland.

Having entered the SSND order, I taught at the elementary level in SSND schools in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Florida. I loved my students and my teaching assignments!

I am now retired and reside at 6401 North Charles Street, Baltimore, MD, with several Sisters from my class. I'm enjoying my retirement!
